kept: he can get hold of. Then he "pipes" around the hotel until he marks a good "crack" and some inmate is relieved of all the money that is deposited in their room. We have also among our house thieves, what are called "sneaks." They "beat" the city until they get into the hall of some house in which there are clothing or articles of sufficient value to afford a good "crack" and while one directs the attention of the inmates by some false enquiry or pretence the other removes the coveted goods. The gamblers are another class of worthies who swarm here now, and are always looking out for and victimizing some "flat." They are gentlemen only in appearance, let the unwary beware of them—these gamblers and thieves are well-known to the police of our city. They can not come here in any disguise but they will be betrayed. We know them—on the piazzas of the hotels they are seen loitering their time and are watched.

Videotys and Hays's are not the growth only of "large cities." We have amongst us a member of the police department whose eye is as piercing and whose hand is as cunning to detect a rogue as the boasted names above. His name is not known as well to fame, because limited by the narrowness of his field of operations, but not prescribed by any want of ability. Let these gentry beware or some of them will make a change not for the better, from the Ocean House to the Marlboro Street Hotel, two places vastly different in their accommodations. Once on their track, Sir Robert the lynx-eyed will never leave nor forsake them until he has "scraped" a most intimate acquaintance with them. We repeat let them beware.

The watch-stuffer is another class. This genius approaches you in great hurry and wants to be accommodated with a small sum of money for immediate and pressing use.

He offers as security, a very highly polished and valuable watch, which he will return and redeem—alas! he never returns and the "flat" discovers that "the works" were made to order, and the cases pinch-beck.

Peddlars of mock jewelry are also frequent visitors amongst us. It is strange that any victims can be found for the successful practice of this class. Yet strange as it is, it is true, that every day finds some one or more of our citizens cheated by these gentry. One was arrested a short time since by Officer Seattle and brought before court for peddling without a license and for fraudulent dealing. He sent to Providence for a friend to come down and swear to his good character, which he did most lustily, and they both went out of the city and left their hotel bill unpaid.

A lady was badly cheated by one of these fellows last week. He sold her a pair of spectacles purporting to be gold. He took in exchange two pairs heavy, old fashioned silver bowed spectacles, and demanded five dollars in money, but finally came down—and got three dollars in cash. The spectacles which the lady received were pronounced, on inspection, to be of the value of fifty cents. This lady is not of ample means, and the cheat was a most heartless one. Beware of these people. Trade with your own dealers, and get an article that you can depend upon. It is much cheaper in the end. Buy of a person whom you know, and who is responsible for the quality of your purchase. Our own tradesmen are as worthy and trustworthy and accommodating a class of people as can be found the world over.—We should all help each other, and frown down this interloping amongst us. If we do not we deserve to be cheated. What a risk to purchase goods of an entire stranger—a migratory tradesman—here to-day and away to-morrow! There is but one licensed peddler of jewelry in the whole State of Rhode Island. Think of that and beware. Let us buy of our own dealers, and thus, at least, we shall be rid of this class of summer nuisances.

But we cannot close without saying that we have endeavored to note in a cursory manner some of the changes in our good old city—some for better and some for worse—and we would add as a word of advice, that our citizens at this season of the year cannot be too cautious and wary against the villain, cheats and blackguards, who swarm here at this season of the year.

We comprehend our advice in brief thus: secure your doors and windows with trusty fastenings; beware of people who bring a letter to the door and enquire if Mr. Smith lives there; don't advance money on gold watches; and if you are in need of jewelry or any other article, patronize Newport merchants.

To the gentry on the "beat," I would add my advice in still briefer form, viz: beware of Sir Robert the lynx-eyed.

A LOUD CALL FOR GIRLS.—Some of the miserable, uneducated—miserable because uneducated—bachelors out West are getting desperate. Their cry for relief is melancholically distressing. Who will volunteer to relieve them from the horrors of single blessedness? We are of opinion that, if married very soon, they could be worked into pretty good husbands. But delays are dangerous. The editor of the Sioux (Iowa) Eagle thus implores:

We will promise husbands to five hundred women during the next year, if they will only come forward and say they want them. We think the population of our town averages about five males to each female, and by the last census it appears that there are 34,000 more males than females in Iowa. Take pity, ladies, and come to our relief."

Don't be prudent, girls. If you want husbands, say so, and let your actions correspond with your words. This talking "stiffish" when everybody knows you mean on, is all nonsense. Bachelors are proverbially shy. They always feel sort of sheepish, because they expect that everybody will suspect they have tried to get married and couldn't; and the older they grow the more timid they become on this very account. Go to them, good, sensible Yankee girls, take them gently by the hand, encourage their laudable desires, and lead them into the silken bonds of matrimonial felicity. We mean, you do the courting.—Life Illustrated.

BRIGHAM YOUNG.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says: "The apprehension of difficulties with the Mormons has subsided. No opposition will be made by Brigham Young to the execution of the laws by the federal officers.—Brigham Young has not written a letter to the President, as was stated, but he sent a long and elaborate newspaper, which article, it is generally supposed, is a full and satisfactory account of the position of the United States here."

ON THE OUTSIDE OF THIS ISSUE.—First Page.—Hints from an Officer.

"Oregon, it is apprehended, may come into the Union as a Slave State. If it should be so, the event may justly be charged to the account of the general agitation on the subject of Slavery. There may possibly be some truth in the remark, that if there be anything worse than Slavery, it is Anti-Slavery."—Boston Courier.

"There may possibly be some truth in the remark," that if there be anything worse than nonsense it is falsehood; and the Courier is probably guilty of both. The "apprehension" expressed by that journal in regard to Oregon is not very likely to be realized; but that California may be divided, and one half of it manufactured into a Slave State, to offset the admission of Free Kansas, (provided the freedom of Kansas shall be finally secured,) is probable enough. Should that project fail, the carving of three or four Slave States out of Texas, one or two out of New Mexico, or an indefinite number out of the Indian territory adjoining Kansas on the South, we should regard as a moral certainty—to say nothing of the seizure of Cuba, Nicaragua, or a large additional chunk of Mexico, with a sole view to the extension of the "peculiar institution"—which is likely enough to happen, at any time. And we certainly should not expect the Boston Courier to make any very formidable opposition to any of these projects.

But what we chiefly see to complain of in the extract we have quoted from that paper, is not its shallow "apprehension" relative to Oregon, but its malignant folly in charging the extension of Slavery to "the account of the general agitation on the subject," and its false and venomous implication that the opposition to Slavery is worse than Slavery itself. Of course, these false charges are mainly designed to injure even as they basely misrepresent the Republican party.

"If there be anything worse than Slavery," says the Courier, it is Anti-Slavery. What would the individual who wrote that brilliant sentence, think, if some person should take him by the button, and looking him steadily in the eye, should say, "If there be anything worse than vice, it is virtue—anything worse than war, it is peace—anything worse than folly, it is wisdom?" Probably he would think the man either an idiot or a lunatic. But we do not think the Courier either, although it certainly talks in a very foolish way, for a journal with any sense and sanity about it. Indeed, it utters just the same sort of folly and absurdity, as the button-holder would do, in the case we have supposed.

If the extension of Slavery is fairly chargeable to the efforts which have been made against it,—why should we not desist from all attempts to enlighten, elevate and improve society, as such attempts (according to Courier logic) will only be followed by greater darkness, degradation and misery? What is the use of inculcating the practice to truth, justice, virtue and humanity—when the Boston Courier tells us in effect that the teaching of these good things is not only idle, but a positive damage to colleges, and printing-presses, and churches, and missionary societies?—nay, why should the sun itself be permitted to shine, since the Courier Dogheries are doubtless quite clear that it only increases the darkness of the universe?

But the hatred of the Courier against the measures of the Republican party is not a whit behind its folly and imbecility. Indeed, these amiable qualities are rather apt to go together in other quarters as well as the Courier office. While a liberal allowance is to be made for differences of opinion among fair and candid minds, it remains eternally true that knavery and falsehood are the legitimate offspring of folly. Every villain is a fool, to begin with—if he were wise, he never would be a villain; for villainy does not "pay," and the wise alone perceive it.

N.B.—We do not expect the Boston Courier, Bennett's Herald, or the N. Y. Journal of Commerce to admit the truth of the propositions just stated.

NOVEL MODE OF ESCAPE.—A convict escaped from the New York State Prison at Sing Sing on Saturday, in this way. He procured a plank eight or ten feet long, and, throwing it into the water, placed himself astride, when one or two of his fellows partially covered him with the shavings they had just removed from the shop. Thus mounted he went off with the tide, and, having passed the village wharves, where he attracted the attention of several persons, who thought they recognized a well-known "roundy," but did not suspect the truth. The raft, with its solitary passenger, has not since been heard from.

DECLINE IN WHEAT.—The Rochester Democrat of July says: "We are informed that a Buffalo firm has just closed a contract for the delivery of one hundred thousand bushels of Chicago spring wheat at a decline of about fifty cents from present prices. A large decline in wheat is inevitable."

A convention of the friends of temperance from all parts of the country is to be held the 19th of November, in Chicago.

LOCAL NEWS.

PORTSMOUTH GROVE.—On Friday last we again visited the Grove. It was a beautiful day, and let me say to you my fellow sojourner in a world of considerable unhappiness, if you want to expand—if you want your lungs to have full play—if you want your mind to feel a most delightful oblivion of all care—if you want to bring back in all its freshness, the keen zest of enjoyment and pleasure which you felt when a youth, on some Saturday's excursion and play, go out to the Grove of a pleasant day. Let the sun go down before you start to return.—Fill yourself well with some of Squire Cole's chowder, and then for as pleasant a ride as New England affords.

On a calm summer evening this can be enjoyed.—The most beautiful sun-set in the world will furnish you for the entire drive with a twilight of gold—and air will come from the waters of the bay all cool and refreshing and fan your beating brow—as gently and as soothingly as the hand of a loved one.—Try it my desponding friend try it.

On Friday the Woonsocket guards who had been in the field since the day before, stayed until 4 o'clock p. m., and then left in the Canonicus, which arrived at the Grove at that hour, with the Roger Williams Sunday-school from Providence, who had passed the day at Fort Adams. There was also a party from New Bedford, and the Unitarian Sunday-school from Fall River.—This week the following parties will visit the grove.

Monday.—Warren Methodist Sunday-school.—Tuesday.—Fall River Methodist Sabbath-school. Wednesday.—The Sons of Temperance in the State. Thursday.—Woonsocket Baptist Sunday-school. Friday.—Perry Davis' Sabbath-school from Providence.

We hope all the members of the Sons of Temperance will be present to meet their brothers from the rest of the State and welcome them to this delightful place of healthy recreation.

Any one having acquaintances or friends among the excursionists by keeping a copy of this paper will know when to visit the grove. Take the ride my care worn business friend—my desponding fellow citizen—ride to the grove and be rejuvenated.

Since writing the above article we have made arrangements with Capt. Morgan of the steamer New Clifton to stop at Portsmouth Grove on Wednesday. Capt. Morgan had already advertised to go to Rocky Point, on Wednesday, direct, but at our request, he kindly agreed to change his course so far as will accommodate those who wish to go to the Grove on Wednesday. The New Clifton will leave here on Wednesday morning, at nine o'clock, from Bonister's Wharf, will land at the Grove at ten o'clock, a. m., and will touch at the Cove on her return at about six o'clock, p. m., thus allowing all day at the Grove. We hope that not only members of the order of the Sons of Temperance and their friends, but also a large number of our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity to spend a day at the Grove. Let the New Clifton be filled on Wednesday. Fare for the Excursion 25 cents. L.

The steamer New Clifton will make excursions to Rocky Point on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. A rare chance of enjoying a pleasant trip up and down the bay is thus afforded to families at a trifling expense. The New Clifton is a small but beautiful boat, and most efficiently and agreeably officered. We feel interested in encouraging pleasure trips to Rocky Point, as being one of the most attractive spots in our neighborhood.

We are requested to state that the dedication of the church at Block Island will be postponed for some ten days, when a steamboat will go over for the purpose of carrying those who may wish to visit the Island, and be present at the dedication. Previous notice will be duly given of the excursion.

We are requested to state that a Meeting of the Musical Institute, will be held this evening in order to make arrangements for a GRAND EXCURSION to be participated in by the members of that institution. A punctual attendance of all the members is particularly desired.

A correspondent of the Lowell Courier, writing from Lawrence, says of Governor Walker:

He keeps quiet in his camp, solacing himself with claret and cigars. He came to town once and ate dinner at the Morrow House, said nothing to any one, and no one said anything to him. He was not waited upon as usual when great dignitaries honor a place with a visit, by their prominent citizens. The Mayor did not condescend to make him a welcome speech, neither were there any public festivities, but every one went about his business, and passed him by with silent contempt, and he left soon after dinner for the "contented field."

DECLINE IN WHEAT.—The Rochester Democrat of July says: "We are informed that a Buffalo firm has just closed a contract for the delivery of one hundred thousand bushels of Chicago spring wheat at a decline of about fifty cents from present prices. A large decline in wheat is inevitable."

A convention of the friends of temperance from all parts of the country is to be held the 19th of November, in Chicago.

GENERAL NEWS.

BOORINESS.—"If you want to discover the real disposition of a person, live in the same house or take a journey with him, or her," has been often said; but the latter expedient certainly will bring the shadows of character, rather than the lights, under observation. Travelling Americans, who may be polite and obliging at home, are becoming more and more allied to the bulldog type; and courtesy to the fair is a thing hardly practiced any longer. Stepping into a car on the New York Central, we saw a man,—who, sitting with his wife on one seat, had turned back the opposite one to accommodate their extra luggage—coolly ordered from the premises a lady who approached to take the seat, although there was no other place in the car. On the afternoon of our finest river steamer, plying up and down the Hudson, we observe, too, that gentlemen (?) sit all the evening smoking their cigars in the midst of the crowd. A lady who complained of this to one of the waiters on board the "New World," was told that "gentlemen did as they pleased in spite of rules." If such liberties with good manners are allowed in public, the "dignified obedience and proud submission" chivalrously rendered to the sex in former times, and especially in this republic, have become obsolete.—N. Y. Express.

A SPASM.—Miss Flora McFlinty, of Madison Square, and all the other fine young ladies of all the other fashionable squares, are going into spasms. The Europa brought over two live lords—real lords—not the kind our fashionable have generally been housed with—French barbers—but the Simon Pures. They are Lord Althrop and Lord Hervey. The first is the son and heir of Earl Spencer, a descendant of the great Duke of Marlborough, and a nephew of Viscount Althrop, the distinguished statesman, who was Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Melbourne administration. Lord Hervey is the second son of the Marquis of Bristol. They are both quite young men, under twenty five, and unmarried.

"NOTHING TO WEAR."—MORE MYSTERY.—The Boston Bee contains the following remarkable paragraph:—

"Early last February, a well-known Boston poet came into our sanctum, and offered for publication a revised copy of 'Nothing to Wear.' He said he had written it some years before, and located the heroine in New York, but he now desired to have it republished, with the alterations marked on the proof-sheets, changing the locality to Boston. Fearing it was an imposition, we laid the copy in our drawer, where it still remains. There is evidently some mystery about the authorship of 'Nothing to Wear.' The question is, who did write it?"

An altered bill of the Metacomb Bank, of Fall River, $1 changed to $10, has made its appearance. This method of alteration is very ingenious and well adapted to deceive.

SOMETHING NEW EVERY WEEK.
Testimony in favor of Prof. O. J. WOOD'S Hair Restorative Voluntary Certificates, of which one will be published every week.

VINCENNES, Ia., June 22, 1853.
PROF. O. J. WOOD.—As you are about to manufacture and vend your recently discovered Hair Restorative, I will state, for whomsoever it may concern, that I have used it and know others to use it—that, I have, for several years, been in the habit of using other Hair Restoratives, and that I find yours vastly superior to any other I know. It entirely cleanses the head of dandruff, and with one month's proper use will restore any person's hair to the original youthful color and texture, giving it a healthy, soft and glossy appearance; and all this, without discoloring the hands that apply it, or the dress on which it drops. I would, therefore, recommend its use to every one desirous of having a fine color and texture to hair.

Respectfully yours,
WILSON KING.
Beware of articles purporting to produce "results similar," as they are only abortive attempts to palm off a miserable article on the popularity of this, under a different name! O. J. READ! READ! READ!—"Ye afflicted read" the following Certificate of a cure of over 20 years' standing:

R. T. HAZARD.—Dear Sir:—I have been troubled with an affliction of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your genuine preparation a trial, as I had heard it highly spoken of. I was afforded immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine. I am truly yours,
M. McCormick.

ALPINE HAIR BALM FOR
Restoring Gray Hair to Its Original Color.

WARRANTED to cure Baldness, Scurf, Dandruff, itching and all diseases of the scalp. This Balm gives the scalp a new and healthy action; restores the coloring matter to the roots of the hair, which passes through the hair, and gives it a natural color without the use of Hair Dye.

Hundreds of preparations have been introduced, pretending to preserve the Hair and keep it from falling off, composed of Oil, Alcohol and other deleterious materials, and all to no use. Hair Dyes have been introduced that do not give the Hair a natural color, besides being troublesome to use. This Balm is not a Dye. Knowing that a preparation was needed to do what was required for the Hair, the proprietor, through his experiment, until he could obtain an article that would be the exact remedy. This something and onerous, always all irritation of the scalp, thereby stopping that troublesome itching. It cures Dandruff and Scurf, and when the Hair has turned gray it will bring it back to its original color. It is Black, Brown or Auburn. It makes the Hair soft and glossy—prevents it from falling off, will be seen by using this Balm for only a few days—life will be given to the roots of the Hair, and growth will soon appear. Growth does not take place at the end of the Hair, as will be seen in persons who have their Hair dyed. If you examine gray hair that has been dyed for a week, you will find towards the roots that the hair has come out gray, hence it is necessary to have the fluid at the roots of the hair healthy, that the whole hair may be a natural color. Each hair has a root in the skin, and is of itself a hollow, gray tube, through which there is a constant circulation of the pigment from the root. When this pigment or coloring matter dies out, it leaves the hair hollow and it becomes gray. To invent a Balm that would produce this pigment has become the study of the proprietor. The discovery of the Alpine Hair Balm will do it. It will bring the Hair to its natural color by making anew the coloring matter in the roots of the hair.

It is a mistaken notion that oil or grease will restore the Hair, as nothing can be more injurious. The Alpine Hair Balm will restore the skin and save the hair of those who have been sick with fever or any disease.
